Job Description

At Mullins & Henry Opticians in Lucan, we are all happy to attend to our customers' optical needs from the moment you step into our practice. Lucan, located in the stunning valley of the River Liffey in west Dublin, is eight miles from the city center.

We are a well-established independent practice looking to recruit an experienced Dispensing Optician, although we also welcome applications from experienced Optical Assistants.

It's important that you are kind, hardworking, and compassionate, and that you take pride in delivering excellent customer service. Essentially, you should be an excellent team player with a proven ability to multitask.

This is a full-time role with the requirement to work Saturdays.

Educating others about the benefits of independent eye care is an ongoing challenge, and we look forward to meeting it head-on with you as part of our team.

Our local community is part of our identity here, and we constantly see the benefits of our work when we're out and about in the area.
