What You'll Do

Act as the primary FM interface with the client, aligning services with production priorities.

Lead delivery of both hard and soft services across a new, high-complexity site.

Ensure statutory, regulatory, and GMP compliance with zero compromise on safety.

Manage budgets, financial performance, and supplier relationships.

Lead and develop a multi-disciplinary team across technical and support services.

Drive continuous improvement in operational efficiency and sustainability.

What We're Looking For

Degree-level education in engineering, business, or management (or equivalent experience).

Minimum 5 years' leadership experience in Integrated Facilities Management, ideally within manufacturing.

Strong knowledge of GMP compliance and food-safe practices.

IOSH or NEBOSH certification.

Proven track record in managing large teams, budgets, and subcontractors.

Excellent problem-solving, decision-making, and client engagement skills.

Desirable

Professional qualifications in Electrical, Mechanical, or Building Services.

Experience mobilising FM in new-build industrial environments.

Knowledge of asset management and authorised person systems.

Why Join Us?

Lead operations at a landmark site in the brewing industry.

Work with a global leader in FM services, driving innovation and excellence.

Competitive salary and benefits package.

Opportunity to make a real impact on safety, compliance, and sustainability.
