Job Description

We're developing LinkAI Route, a unified API gateway and credit-based SaaS platform for accessing multiple AI providers through one interface.

We are looking for a SaaS Platform Engineer & Growth Developer — someone who is comfortable building the platform, maintaining it in production, and contributing ideas for product growth, user onboarding and market reach.

This role is ideal for a person who enjoys building, improving, experimenting, and helping a new product find its early users.

You don't need to be a traditional "full-stack engineer"; we value creativity, problem-solving, and independent thinking.
