Job Description

Robinson Farm is a market garden producing vegetables year-round for two farmers' markets in Cork City and Macroom. We are seeking a full-time Horticultural Worker to join our team for the 2026 growing season.

Key duties and responsibilities include:

Vegetable production across the full growing cycle (propagation, transplanting and crop maintenance)

Assisting with crop planning and succession planting

Soil preparation, fertility management and sustainable growing practices

Supervision and coordination of seasonal students and volunteers

Harvesting, packing and preparation for farmers' markets

General maintenance of growing areas, polytunnels and equipment

Assisting and/or leading other necessary farm operations

Desired qualifications and experience:

A third-level qualification in horticulture, agriculture, environmental science or a related discipline, and/or

A minimum of two years' practical experience in vegetable production, market gardening or nursery-based horticulture

Skills and attributes:

Ability to work both independently and as part of a team

Strong problem-solving and decision-making skills

Good level of physical fitness (lifting up to 20kg, bending and kneeling for extended periods)

Positive attitude and genuine interest in local food and sustainable agriculture

This is a full-time, paid position based on-site just outside of Cloughduv, Co. Cork.
