Job Description

Holos Skincare is a cosmetic brand that blends pure plant ingredients with scientifically proven actives. It is vegan and cruelty free and operates with a focus on long-term sustainability. This holistic approach of harmonising Nature, Science and Consciousness enables Holos to deliver a product that does not choose between ethics and results but instead offers both, allowing users to experience vitality in their skin, their wellbeing and their world.

Holos' vision is to be a global formulation and production house, implementing innovative and sustainable solution to craft skincare brands from concept to market-ready product.
