Job Description

About Us

Zoomies is a growing dog grooming, daycare, and retail business focused on quality, customer experience, and operational excellence. As we expand, we are building a more data-driven and scalable operation.

The Role

We are seeking a Finance Project Manager to support financial planning, performance tracking, and strategic decision-making across grooming, daycare, retail, and business projects.

Key Responsibilities:

Support financial planning, budgeting, and forecasting across grooming, daycare, retail, and project activities

Conduct financial analysis on business initiatives (e.g. service expansion, pricing, capacity planning) to assess commercial viability

Monitor and analyse revenue streams, pricing, cost structures, and profit margins, identifying trends and optimisation opportunities

Develop and manage budgets, track expenditure, and analyse variances vs forecasts, recommending corrective actions

Prepare financial reports, management accounts, and project performance updates to support decision-making

Coordinate financial aspects of projects, ensuring alignment with operational and financial objectives

Evaluate operational and project costs (staffing, consumables, inventory) and recommend efficiency improvements

Support growth initiatives, including service expansion and new locations, through financial modelling and tracking

Analyse customer demand, booking trends, and service utilisation to support revenue optimisation and capacity planning

Support inventory and cost tracking for retail products and grooming supplies

Communicate effectively with management and operational teams to align on financial goals and expectations

Assist in improving financial processes, controls, and reporting systems to support scalable growth

Requirements

Experience in finance, accounting, or commercial analysis

Strong analytical skills with ability to turn data into actionable insights

Experience with budgeting, forecasting, and financial reporting

Commercial mindset with interest in operations and business growth

Strong communication and organisational skills

Proficiency in Excel/Google Sheets

Why Join Us

Play a key role in shaping a growing business

Work closely with leadership on strategy and performance

Hands-on, fast-paced environment

Supportive team culture
