Job Description

Executive Leadership Role | Technical FM | Digital Transformation & Growth

Location: Republic of Ireland, No fixed location (candidate must be based in Ireland)

Salary: Highly Competitive Salary + Benefits

We are seeking an exceptional Head of Technical Services, Projects & Digital to provide strategic leadership across technical facilities management, projects, and digital capability throughout the island of Ireland. This is a senior, high-impact role for a forward-thinking leader who can drive innovation, elevate performance, and act as a trusted advisor to operational teams and clients.

The Role

As Head of Technical Services, Projects & Digital, you will define and drive the strategic direction across hard FM services, projects delivery, digital platforms, data, and sustainability.

Operating at the intersection of technical excellence, innovation, and commercial performance, you will play a pivotal role in transforming service delivery, enabling growth, and embedding future-ready solutions.

This role is about leadership, influence, and transformation:

Setting and delivering a clear strategy across technical services, projects, and digital FM

Driving innovation through systems, data, and emerging technologies

Enhancing service quality, compliance, and operational performance

Supporting growth through client-centric and commercially focused solutions

Leading transformation across digital, sustainability, and operational excellence

Key Accountabilities

Provide strategic leadership across hard FM, projects, digital solutions, and sustainability initiatives

Act as a senior advisor to operational teams and clients, supporting performance, innovation, and service excellence
