The Role

As a healthcare assistant with Bartra Homecare, you will:

provide high-quality, person-centred care to clients in their own homes

Assist clients with personal care needs including washing, dressing, grooming, and toileting.

Support clients with mobility and safe moving and handling to maximise comfort and independence.

Assist with meal preparation, feeding, and hydration where required.

Support clients with light household duties such as cleaning, laundry, and shopping.

Monitor and report any changes in clients' physical or emotional wellbeing to the care manager or nursing team.

Maintain accurate care records and documentation in line with company and regulatory requirements.

Support clients in medication reminders (where appropriate and trained).

Promote dignity, respect, and independence for all clients always.

Build and maintain positive relationships with clients and their families.

Accompany clients to appointments or community activities where required.

Adhere to infection prevention and control policies.

Report hazards, incidents, or safeguarding concerns promptly

Assist in monitoring basic health indicators (where trained) and report concerns.

Act as a first responder in emergency situations where required.

Participate in training such as manual handling, safeguarding, and first aid.

The Ideal Candidates will demonstrate:
