Job Description

Main Duties and Responsibilities

- Plans and designs end-to-end international freight solutions (air, ocean, and road) for complex customer supply chains, using independent professional judgment.
- Studies customer supply chain needs and turns them into custom, cost-effective, and compliant logistics strategies.
- Advanced proficiency in using Barsan's BARSIS system for managing logistics operations, shipment documentation and operational processes.
- Uses expert knowledge of trade law, sanctions regimes, and customs codes to review and approve shipping and customs documents; advises customers and management on regulatory risk and how to manage it.
- Selects and evaluates carriers and logistics providers based on cost, performance, and risk; owns vendor performance management.
- Leads negotiations with carriers and suppliers on freight rates and contract terms, and builds competitive pricing strategies for customer quotes.
- Directs airline and ocean freight booking strategy to improve service quality, capacity use, and cost efficiency across a portfolio of accounts.
- Acts as a key operational liaison with customs brokers, government authorities, overseas offices and international business partners across Barsan's global network. Turkish language proficiency is essential for supporting Turkish customers, suppliers and cross-border operations.
- Coordinates and supports global logistics projects involving multiple countries, ensuring alignment with corporate operational standards, customer requirements and international trade regulations.
- Owns regulatory compliance for import/export operations, interprets new customs legislation, and turns it into internal procedures.
- Identifies and manages operational and business risk across international supply chains, and designs plans to prevent and handle problems.
- Represents the company to public authorities and external agencies to obtain permits and authorizations for regulated or controlled cargo.

- Acts as the senior point of contact for customers, carriers, suppliers, and business partners, resolving high-value or high-risk issues.
- Investigates and resolves complex, non-routine operational problems, applying strong analytical and problem-solving skills.
- Monitors and analyzes operational and business performance data, and leads continuous improvement projects across processes and systems.
- Oversees the quality of operational documents, shipment records, and invoices to ensure accuracy across the portfolio.
