Job Description

Kiernan Milling Unlimited Company are currently seeking Feed Mill Technician to support our daily animal feed production operations for their farm at Granard Co. Longford N39C960.

This is a hands-on position that combines basic mill equipment monitoring with essential general operative duties across the raw material, mixing, bagging, and dispatch areas.

The successful candidate will be responsible for keeping processing lines running smoothly, handling raw ingredients, maintaining high standards of mill hygiene, and assisting with routine maintenance checks.

Key Responsibilities:

Receive, weigh, and unload bulk raw materials (grains, meals, additives) into intake hoppers, silos, and storage bays.

Operate manual and semi-automated bagging machines, stitch/seal feed sacks, apply correct batch labels, and stack pallets efficiently.

Operate forklifts or power pallet trucks to move raw ingredients, stack finished goods, and load delivery trucks for farm dispatch.

Monitor conveyors, augers, elevators, and grinders for smooth operation; clear minor blockages and report mechanical faults promptly to maintenance fitters.

Requirements

Experience in a feed mill, agricultural processing, quarrying, warehousing, or manufacturing environment is a strong advantage.

Ability to follow strict mixing ratios, product labeling instructions, and biosecurity/contamination prevention protocols.

Remuneration for this role is €36,605 per annum based on 39 hours per week.
